In times of change, imagination matters.

Our theme, Imagine If..., invites us to look beyond current challenges and consider what becomes possible when education drives connection, action, and positive change.

At the 2026 NAAEE Annual Conference in Portland, we will build on the momentum across our field and explore what we can do when environmental education is fully leveraged to shape a more just, resilient, and sustainable world. Imagine strengthening efforts to build healthier communities, deepen civic engagement, and reconnect people to nature. Imagine partnerships that foster collaboration across sectors, cultures, and generations. Imagine learning that sparks not only understanding, but sustained collective action and renewed hope.

As an NAAEE 2026 sponsor, you help expand access and participation, elevate innovative and proven approaches, strengthen collaboration across the field, and equip leaders to meet today's most urgent challenges. Your sponsorship is an investment in the people, partnerships, and ideas shaping the future of environmental education.

Join us in imagining—and building—the world we want, through the power of education.

Attending my first environmental conference was a transformative experience. As a woman of color navigating a career change, I gained invaluable insights in encouraging and inviting my community into the environmental education field.

This was my first experience at the NAAEE conference, and it was truly incredible. ... It was an energizing and transformative experience that I'm excited to carry forward and feel it was the best conference I've ever been to.
